

Chelsea

KENNY Swain, one of the most skilful forwards to play for Wycombe Wanderers in the last six years, makes a return to Loakes Park on Monday night, when the Blues take on a Chelsea XI in a friendly (K.O. 7.30).

Chelsea's Reserve team are without a game tomorrow (Saturday) and accepted the chance to play against Wycombe. The team named yesterday (Thursday) is subject to change but Blues fans could have the chance to see first teamers Graham Wilkins, Marvin Hinton, Brian Bason, Peter Houseman and Steve Kember in action.

Swain, who had only a short stay with Wycombe before going pro', has been suffering from injury recently but should definitely play at least 45 minutes of the match. Hinton, Houseman and Kember are by far the most experienced members of the team.

In January 1973, Chelsea played Wanderers in a similar friendly, the result ending at 1-1. Five Wycombe players remain from that team and three from Chelsea.

Chelsea (probable team): D. Richardson, M. Sorensen, A. Cunningham, M. Hinton, G. Wilkins, B. Bason, S. Kerr, R. Lewington, K. Swain, G. Stanley, P. Houseman.
